An Evening with Author Laney Salisbury

Pathways' Bridge to Caring 2013 features Laney Salisbury, best-selling author of Provenance, "the extraordinary narrative of one of the most far reaching and elaborate deceptions in art history."

Laney began her career as a journalist following a sojourn in India that ignited her passion for writing. A stint in Africa as a freelance journalist led her to enroll in Columbia University's Graduate School of Journalism. After an internship in the Middle East, Laney returned to New York.

While working for Reuters, she met Aly Sujo, the man who would become her writing partner and husband. He encouraged Laney to follow her interest: exploring journalistic stories of complexity and subtlety. Her first book was The Cruellest Miles: the Heroic Story of Dogs and Men in a Race Against an Epidemic, about a diphtheria epidemic in Nome, Alaska in 1925, which Laney wrote with her cousin Gay Salisbury.

In their book Provenance, Aly and Laney traced the astonishing story of how con man John Drewe forever changed the art world. Aly passed away just as the manuscript for Provenance was finished. The book received wide acclaim and was included on Oprah's Summer Reading List for 2009.

Afternoon bridge, dinner with the author, or wine & hors d'oeuvres reception options available, followed by the program. Join us for an evening to remember.
